

U. S. BIGGEST BOMBER CRASHES; ONE DEAD; 4 HURT

HUGE PLANE BURNS AFTER CRACKING UP

Was Being Tested At Flying Field At Dayton, Ohio

Dayton, O., Oct. 30.—(P)—America's biggest bombing plane crashed to earth and burst into flames today, injuring fatally one of the five men it carried.

The ship was the Boeing "Flying Fortress," undergoing tests by the Army Air Corps in preparation for strengthening the nation's air fleet.

The crash killed Major P. P. Hill, chief of the flying branch at Wright field here, and official pilot for the tests of three bombers undergoing trials.

He and four others took the huge bomber aloft today. It was then 200 feet off the ground before witnesses said the two left engines stopped to idler, the two right engines pulled the big ship around in a 180 degree turn, the left wing dipped, and the bomber crashed, still upright but facing a direction almost opposite to that in which it had headed.

A wall of flame burst up as it crashed. But even before the Wright field ambulances, ever ready for such emergencies, had hurried up, Lieut. L. F. Harrison and R. K. Giovanni, among the witnesses, had thrown their coats over their heads, buried their faces in their arms, and charged into the flames to drag the bomber's test crew to safety.

The injured were Lieut. Donald L. Pitt, 30, Yakima, Wash., co-pilot in the test; Leslie Tower, chief Boeing test pilot; John Cutting, 26, Wright field test observer; and Mark H. Koenig, 35, Wright field employee.

Tower was burned severely, and the others were less seriously hurt. All will live. Harrison and Giovanni were slightly burned.

Though an investigation board began work immediately, it had not yet reached the time of the crash, and Wright field officials said that details would not be clarified until the injured are able to give their testimony.

The Boeing command center of the plane is covered by insurance for $1,000,000.

Biggest bomber in the United States, the Boeing had a wingspread of 165 feet, was 70 feet long and stood 15 feet high. Its four air-cooled engines were capable of sending it speeding at 230 miles an hour under full load of five tons, including bombs, crew, and the four machine guns it carried for defense.

It had retractable landing gear to add to its speed, and also brakes to slow it in its landing. Flown here from Seattle for the tests, with Tower at the controls, it roared cross-country at an average speed of 230 miles an hour with four men aboard.

Representing $500,000 in development and construction, the huge ship was called the largest land plane ever built in the United States. Sister ships were offered to the army at $108,550 each in lots of 25, or at $90,820 each for an order of 220 such craft.

NEW DOLLAR BILL
Washington, Oct. 30.—(P)—The government will issue next month a new dollar bill described by Secretary Morgenthau as the "handmade ever."

It will be a silver certificate and though the size will be the same as the present currency, there will be changes in design.

For the first time, there will be printed on the back a picture of both sides of the great seal, which was adopted in 1792 even before the constitution was drawn up.

On the front will be several changes in design.

PERNEKES BODY UNDER GUARD IN COUNTY MORGUE

2 Investigations Will Be Opened By Officials

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(P)—Two officers guarded the body of Henry "Midjet" Pernekes in the Cook county morgue tonight while plans for two investigations into the last days of the self-slain bandit took shape.

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney of Chicago disclosed he would seek to apprehend the persons who helped hide the tiny terrorist from the law.

State's Attorney Will McCabe of Will county, seat of the prison, announced he would open a grand jury probe next Monday in an effort to find out how Pernekes could walk out of the penitentiary in disguise.

McCabe said he would summon Superintendent of Prisons Joseph R. Sullivan and several guards and demand the records of the detector tests to which four penitentiary employees submitted before their dismissal in the future over the escape.

Pernekes will be witnessed by one of the discharged guards, G. A. Friend, and Captain A. L. Anderson, who is authorized by Sullivan's secretary, Captain C. W. Troxell, who termed it a routine affair.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide in the Pernekes case. Pernekes' brother, Irvin, of Valparaiso, Ind., prevailed upon authorities to find the body until he made funeral arrangements.

Sullivan asked two guards against the rather far-fetched possibility that someone would steal it.

Pernekes will bequeath his estate, which authorities said may amount to $100,000 or may amount to almost nothing—to a son and step-son. California officials reported he had only $100 on deposit in a San Francisco bank.

His wife, named excatrux, was reported to have remarried. She had not appeared to take over his duties, although reputed to live in Chicago.

Baby Orang-Utan Displays Vigor
Chicago, Oct. 30.—(P)—The eight day old orang-utan displayed such surprising vigor today that Lincoln Park officials decided he could carry a name henceforth.

They designated his appellation as "Cy De Vry" honoring President Robert J. Duhan of the park board, said "the man who developed Lincoln Park zoo to its present state."

De Vry, who died in Los Angeles Oct. 3, 1934, left the local zoo to become director of the Selig Zoo there. He retired five years ago.

Zoo attendants kept a constant supply of warm milk in the mother's cage and young "Cy" now was getting an apparently adequate nourishment by Via Nancy's mouth feeding system.

GOVERNMENT'S RELIEF POLICY IS CRITICIZED

Immediate Security Not Offered Paul Kellogg Says

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 30.—(P)—Existing social security legislation offers no immediate security, Paul Kellogg, vice chairman of the advisory council to President Roosevelt's committee on economic security, told the Illinois conference on social welfare tonight.

Kellogg, editor of the survey and survey graphic, praised the federal four-billion-dollar work relief program but criticized the government's re-modelled relief policy.

Emergency measures that aim at immediate social security, he declared, are "at loose ends in the midst of the present drive to shift unemployed wage earners from relief lists to works progress projects."

"There is sanity in separating the two functions of supplying work and supplying relief," Kellogg said, "but not in the presumption at Washington that in this time of transition federal responsibility can leave off where that line is drawn, or in the wishful thinking among burdened taxpayers that private or local agencies are prepared to take over the relief load."

Gov. Henry Horner during a banquet address paid tribute to the memory of the late Jane Addams, founder of Hull house in Chicago. He lauded the pioneer social worker who died last summer as "an example of the noblest aspirations of mankind, a woman who has few parallels in the history of the world."

John C. Weigel, president of the conference and fiscal supervisor of the Illinois department of public welfare, praised the conference for its intellectual honesty and its "fight without sham for those who could not fight for themselves."

Dr. Frances Roehrer of the federal children's bureau termed the social security act the most important child welfare legislation ever enacted in the United States. She told delegates that Illinois could receive hundreds of thousands of dollars in additional government aid through proper formulation of state health programs.

Giant Airliner Crashes, Four Persons Killed

Test Ship Strikes Hilltop And Gasoline Tank Explodes

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 30.—(P)—Four persons were killed tonight when a giant airliner of the United Airlines crashed and exploded on a hilltop six miles south of Cheyenne.

The plane was a test ship which the company sent on a circling tour of the city a few minutes before it crashed.

The officials of the company were informed a gasoline tank exploded when the plane struck the hilltop.

The dead: M. T. Arnold, chief test pilot of the United Airlines of Cheyenne, formerly of Chicago; Abe Cohen, veteran pilot of the Wyoming air service; of Cheyenne; Edward Yantiss of the United's instrument crew; of Cheyenne; Harold Kaufman, of Cheyenne, apprentice instrument man of the U. A. L. ships here.

Witnesses said one gasoline tank exploded as the plane struck the hilltop in a blustering snow storm. Then they said, the ship bounded high into the air and the second gasoline tank apparently exploded.

Police patrol cars, ambulances and fire department pieces moved with difficulty through a jam of sightseers cars to the wreckage strewn hilltop.

It was estimated the plane was traveling 170 miles an hour when it fell.

Officials of the U. A. L. offices here said they did not know what caused the crash.

The plane was a twin motored Boeing, and had been used for test purposes only.

The silver grey air liner had been away from its home port only 25 minutes when it struck the knoll on the broken plains land which borders the Cheyenne-Denver highway.

British and French Plan Full Wartime Cooperation In The Mediterranean Sea

By Richard G. Massock, Associated Press Foreign Staff.
Paris, Oct. 30.—(P)—British and French navy, army and air leaders were reported in official French circles tonight to be planning full wartime co-operation in the Mediterranean Sea by France and Great Britain.

High quarters said French army and air chiefs would join naval experts now in London, where a plan will be worked out with British officials for joint action under Article XVI of the League of Nations covenant. This article provides for sanctions against an aggressor nation.

This development came just after a conference between Premier Pierre Laval of France and the Italian ambassador, Vittorio Cerruti, in which Laval was reliably reported to have made it clear that terms for peace in the Italo-Ethiopian conflict must come from Premier Mussolini of Italy and must be submitted to the league.

Laval was said to have told Cerruti that Mussolini must scale down his demands before any plan of settlement can hope to succeed.

British circles said Anthony Eden, British secretary for league affairs, was taking to Geneva for the meeting of 52 nations tomorrow a "back" for peace discussions, acceptable to both France and Britain. However, they believed it would have little chance of acceptance by Emperor

GOVERNMENT TO LOAN 45 CENTS BUSHEL ON CORN

Shelled Must Grade Number Three Or Better

Washington, Oct. 29.—(P)—The agriculture department announced today a 45 cent a bushel loan on this year's corn crop, according to the loan requirements, which Secretary Wallace said might or might not be the beginning of his ever normal granary plan.

The Commodity Credit Corporation, Wallace reported, has asked the Reconstruction Corporation for a maximum of $150,000,000 to finance the loan to farmers who signed the 1935 corn-hog adjustment contracts.

The loan, the announcement said, will be made available on field corn that has been husked and stored in the ear in suitable cribs in accordance with the laws of the state in which it is located.

Loans will be made on corn which, if shelled, would grade number three or better. The grade requirement in 1933 and 1934 was number four. The loan rate last year was 35 cents a bushel and in 1933 was 45 cents.

Significantly, Wallace called attention to the new requirements that cribs in which corn is stored for loans must be capable of permitting proper storage for two successive years. This requirement, Wallace said, "might or might not be" the beginning of the balanced granary plan.

The ever normal granary plan, as proposed by Wallace, was authorized in the new AAA amendment. It would provide for storage of crops on farms during good crop years, possibly under government loans, to insure a sufficient supply in "lean" years.

The corn-loan will mature July 1, 1936, but Wallace said probably no new loans would be granted after March 31.

The AAA released an official tabulation as of noon today, including returns from 22 states, showing 813,062 votes for the 128,340 votes against a program.

Favorable votes made up 86.37 percent of the total voting, said the AAA.

The division between contract signers was 880,638 for a program and 64,789 against, while 132,347 non-signers voted for a program and 83,581 voted in opposition.

Loans under the past two programs, the AAA said, were made to producers in 10 states—Colorado, Ill., (Continued on Page Six)

MRS. MUENCH BRINGS BABY INTO COURT

Defies Judge And Is Banished From Court Room

St. Louis, Oct. 30.—(P)—Climaxing a riotous court session studded by boos from spectators and the banishment of a principal as she screamed her defiance at the presiding judge, Mrs. Anna Ware, a servant girl, today identified as her own the "gift of God" baby whose motherhood is claimed by Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench.

Spectators in the corridors who had jeered Mrs. Muench as she brought the disputed infant into court this morning, shouted "Hurray for Anna Ware" as the young domestic completed her dramatic identification. Mrs. Muench, ejected from the court after she screamed, "You brute—Nero!" at Presiding Judge William D. Becker, sat in an anteroom and wept loudly.

The two women today entered the third week of their legal battle over the infant, whose motherhood is claimed by both. Judge Becker removed it from the custody of Mrs. Muench when he ordered it held as evidence. It will be cared for at a St. Louis hospital until the case is concluded.

It was the order, read by Judge Becker a few minutes after Mrs. Muench had brought the baby into court for the first time, that brought the screaming denunciation from the red-haired sister of a Missouri State Supreme Court judge.

Jumping to her feet she shouted: "Oh, don't you do it—don't do it. Oh, how can you, you mean old brute!"

"Remove that woman from the court room," ordered Judge Becker, lifting his voice to be heard above the tumult. As court attaches surrounded Mrs. Muench she turned to Judge Becker again.

"Nero! Nero! to take my baby from me!" Placed in an anteroom Mrs. Muench continued to sob audibly.

As quiet was restored witnesses were permitted to examine the infant and then attorneys for Mrs. Ware called a long string of doctors and scalp specialists to testify.

All said the baby's hair appeared brown in some spots and "reddish" in others. Last week Dr. Marsh Pitzman testified that the first time he saw the baby in the Muench home, its hair appeared brown, but at a later visit it was "definitely red."

After Muench's red-haired and Miss Ware has brown hair.

Anna Ware then examined the infant and took the witness stand to declare, "It's the same baby. I know it."

Continuing she said, "As far as I can see he is the same baby that was taken from me, only he has filled out a little more in the face."

At the conclusion of her testimony Judge Becker, who today took personal charge of the case which heretofore had been handled by a special commissioner, ordered court until 10 a. m. Friday to permit further examination of the baby.

Testimony Stage Has Been Reached In Sweitzer Case
Prosecutor Demands Conviction While Defense Seeks Vindication

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(P)—A prosecutor's demand for his conviction and defense plea for vindication moved the trial of former County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer to the testimony stage today.

At St. Paul's Attorney Marshall V. Kearney outlining the state's story of the allegedly missing $414,125 from the treasury of the office the one time Democratic leader held for 24 years, said the case was concerned with but two accounts which were under Sweitzer's charge—the redemption fund and the general fee fund.

The two were frequently referred to as "vest pocket funds" about the county courthouse.

He said that $17,000 of county funds which had been turned in to Sweitzer after the failure of a bank 17 years ago had not been accounted for. When the present clerk, Michael J. Flynn, asked Sweitzer to pay over $375,000 last February, the defendant told him, Kearney said, "that the money was invested in England and was tied up in probate courts there."

Defense Counsel I. Harvey Levinson recounted Sweitzer's long public career in his opening statement. "Smiling Bob" reputation as the leading vote getter on the Democratic party in Cook county was referred to and his other public offices listed.

The jury to hear the evidence, expected to start with the opening of Thursday's court session, was completed earlier in the day.

ILLINOIS RELIEF PROBLEMS TAKE TURN FOR WORSE

Health Inspector in N. Y. Can't Tell Rooster From Hen

New York, Oct. 30.—(P)—Although the park department has sent a portable barnyard through the city in an effort to educate New Yorkers in those matters, the health department was alleged today to have an inspector who can't tell a rooster from a hen.

Rowland Story declared he faced the prospect of losing his permit to keep his hens because of complaints about the crowing of his roosters.

An inspector looked over his little flock recently, Story said, but admitted to his daughter that he did not know the difference between a rooster and a hen.

"I have not kept a rooster for five years," Story declared.

HAILE SELASSIE ORDERS BURIED ARMS UNEARTHED

Thousands Of American Winchester's Included In Caches

By James A. Mills
Addis Ababa, Oct. 30.—(P)—Emperor Haile Selassie today ordered all buried arms dug out of the time of his uncle, Emperor Menelik, unearthed for distribution to reserve troops.

Thousands of American Winchester's are included in the caches.

Peafowl that Ethiopia would at any time be invaded, Menelik made a regular practice of burying huge quantities of arms and munitions. The place was known only to himself and a few trusted officials. He led his warriors to victory over Italy at Adowa 40 years ago.

Most of the buried rifles have never been used. Their range is considerably shorter than modern rifles. On the other hand, the rounds they inflicted are said to be almost incurable because of the huge bore of the guns.

Ethiopians prefer close-in fighting and shooting at a range of about 600 feet.

Preparations for the establishment of a base hospital behind Ethiopia's southern front, directed by an American medical missionary, were pushed today.

Dr. Robert W. Hockman, United Presbyterian missionary, left for Jijiga, 300 miles behind the southern zone, to supervise the hospital. With him went six American-made ambulances and other medical equipment.

Dr. Hockman, aided by Dr. Malaku Bayen, one of Ethiopia's few native physicians and a graduate of Howard University, Washington, D. C., is negotiating Ethiopian soldiers against typhoid, smallpox and cholera.

A sum estimated at about $100,000 was added to Emperor Haile Selassie's war chest today when 200 leading Ethiopian merchants, bearing huge bags of Marie Theresa Thalers on their backs, brought it to the palace and gave it to the emperor.

A spokesman for the merchants said, "take also our lives as an offering on the altar of freedom. We will gladly die for you in order that the nation might live."

Corn Husker Sets New World Record
Kewanee, Ill., Oct. 30.—(P)—By husking 33.4 bushels of corn in 30 minutes William Rose of Kewanee won the Henry county husking contest today, bettering the accepted world record of 33.94 set by Carl Seiler, Knox county, Ill., in 1932.

Rose also topped the unofficial mark of 37.59 bushels set by George Christman, Villa Grove, Ill., yesterday in winning the Douglas county title.

In the Bureau county contest today at Princeton, Ill., Elmer and Carl Linden, Tazewell, Ill., brothers, finished one-two, Elmer Shucking 36.889 bushels and Carl 36.588.

At Toulon the Stark county championship went to Arnold Seibenthal, Speer, Ill., who peeled 33.56 bushels.

Harold Wirtz, Monmouth, won the Warren county corn husking contest, picking 33.2 bushels in 30 minutes.

MIMIC WARFARE
Washington, Oct. 30.—(P)—The war department announced today the air corps would assemble more than 60 planes for 15 days of mimic warfare in the San Joaquin Valley of California starting November 3.

The department said the maneuvers would be the first of a series to be held semi-annual by the general headquarters air force in the west coast area.

The mock warfare will be conducted on the assumption that the enemy force is invading from the south.

POLLY SHOULD TALK; SHE HAS OPERATION

Parrot Goes Under Knife and Lives to Tell It

The vocabulary of the average parrot is somewhat limited, but if the bird belonging to Joe McGownd of South Clay avenue can find the proper words, she may now be in the height of fashion by expatiating on her operation. Tuesday Mr. McGownd took Polly to the office of Dr. C. E. Scott to find out why her wing stood out about an inch from her body.

"Doc" examined the parrot and found she had a tumor under her wing, and that an operation would be necessary. Mr. McGownd held Polly and the veterinarian propped the wing up with a penholder. He then clipped off the infected tissue and reduced the tumor. The wound was coated with disinfectant, and Polly appeared none the worse for the experience, she did put up a terrible squawk during the ordeal. Mr. McGownd is 84 years old. The parrot is 22. She is expected to survive the operation in good shape, and may be talking about it for some years to come. She was tame, as she didn't have an anaesthetic.

C. N. Wright Takes Kiwanis Golf Title

Defeats Milt Stout One Up In 19 Holes To Win For Third Time

In a closely fought match over 19 holes, Charles N. Wright for the third time since the club began holding tournaments, won the Kiwanis handicap yesterday with a one up margin over Milt Stout, another former title holder.

Wright virtually won the match on the tee going to the 19th green when Stout hooked his tee shot out of bounds. The penalty stroke was the only one between him and his opponent when the hole clocked in the cup. Despite the condition of the course, which is under repair, Stout shot a 39 over the first nine to take a two hole lead over Wright, who turned in a 41.

Wright came back in the second half to tie the score, and then won the match on the extra hole.

Wright won the title three years ago, and then again two years ago. Stout won the title once, Fred Hopper won it once, and Ralph Hutchinson won it twice.

Keys Quadruplets Turn Out to Help Texas Eleven

Instead of triple-threat men who can run, kick, and pass, teams facing Texas Baylor University this season must beware a quadruple threat, the famed Keys quadruplets of Holm, Ohio, who are giving Baylor gridgers a few tips on teamwork and cooperation which they learned in more than 29 years of sisterly comradeship. "O.K. Parry" star tackle at the Vase, Tex. institution is the lucky pup who shown above with his quadruplet mentors. Notre Dame-Illini To Meet With B II's

Don Battershell, Roodhouse, Slated To Get Chance; Go To South Bend

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 30.—Notre Dame and Illini will meet on the gridiron at Notre Dame Saturday for the first time since 1928 when the Irish beat Illinois 5 to 0 on old Illinois field in the only game which they have ever played.

To be exact, it is only the "B" teams of the two universities which play this week, but at that, there is much interest in the engagement as a harbinger of the varsity series between the Irish and Illini to open in the Illinois stadium in 1937.

The Illinois "B" team is eager to distinguish themselves that they may win promotion to the varsity, as several of their former teammates have done. These games give players an opportunity to show what they can do in actual competition and undoubtedly some of the boys who line up as sophomores Saturday against the Irish secondary squad will be found in the varsity game lineup two years from now.

The Illinois "B" team has played one tie with Purdue's "B" squad and lost another to the Boilermakers, 12 to 6. The game at Notre Dame is the first of two the Irish "B's" coming to the Illinois stadium Nov. 16.

The probable lineup will be: Ellsworth, quarterback; Leland, Oliver, center; Phil Cherry and Henry Moore, tackles; Dick Fay and Bill Kue, guards; Irving Robbins, center; Frank Leonard, quarterback; Walter Pearson and Joe Carson, halfbacks; John Kanofsky, fullback.

Other probable members of the squad are: Ends—Emery Ebert, James J. D'Ambrosio, Herb Glazer, Dave Turnbull, Gene Hanes. Tackles—Richard Conran, John Holzman, Ken Koehler, Harold Koplar, Ed Howell. Guards—John O'Byrne, Don Battershell, Carl Knox, Harpe Harris, Center—Ray Harris. Quarterback—Lee Goldberger. Halfbacks—John Brogan, Frank Cantrill. Fullback—Ellsworth Van Orman.

Rubber Game Of Series Of Three To Be Played Saturday A. M.

Evening up the score, Jacksonville high's freshmen and sophomore football team, under the direction of "Pop" Ward defeated the Illinois School for the Deaf 13-14 year olds, under Charles Marshall yesterday afternoon 6-0, and thereby brought about a decision to play a full time game Saturday morning on the I.S.D. field. The I.S.D. team defeated J.H.S. a week ago by a 6-0 score.

Schulman was the hero of the occasion for the Crimson yearlings, looking an I.S.D. punt and then falling on it in the end zone for the winning touchdown. Schulman, who plays both in the backfield and line for the J.H.S. youngsters, registered the winning marker in the first quarter.

The J.H.S. lads missed another chance to score when the I.S.D. club tried to make ten yards in four downs inside their own ten yard line, the Crimson taking the ball but failing to score on their chance.

The line-ups: J. H. S. Pos. I. S. D. Ferguson, L. E. Scharfenberger, Quarterback, L. T. Jackson, C. Jordan, L. G. Thompson, C. Schilman, C. C. Laird, Wernle, R. G. Rhodes, A. Smith, R. T. A Hundred Directors Here for I. A. A. District Administrative Meet

More than a hundred members of Farm Bureau boards of directors in the ten counties of the Twentieth I. A. A. district gathered here yesterday for a conference with district executives, George Metzger, field secretary of the Illinois Agricultural Association, was the principal speaker. K. T. Smith of Greenfield, I. A. A. director for this district, was also on the program.

The group met in the assembly hall of the Farm Bureau. Mr. Metzger discussed the duties of board members and gave details of the administrative end of Farm Bureau work. There was also a brief view of legislative activity in the state during the current biennium and a discussion of measures affecting agriculture pending in the present session.

Morning and afternoon sessions of the group were held. Practically all counties were represented, and most of them had their entire Farm Bureau board in attendance. The session opened at 10:30 o'clock.

COCHRANE TICKLED WITH HUNTING TRIP

Cody, Wyo.—(P)—Football, not baseball, enthused Gordon (Mickey) Cochrane, manager of the world's champion Detroit Tigers, as he headed eastward today, still reveling in the success of his Wyoming big game hunt.

"I'm going back east to see the Army-Navy game and some other football teams," he observed as he boarded a train, loaded down with trophies of his expedition.

"The most fun I ever had," was his description of the trip which he and Dallas Kelsey made through the wilds of northwest Wyoming.

"We shot a moose, antelope, deer, ducks, pheasants and caught some mighty fine trout," the Bengal boss explained.

James Harris represented the Waverly community in the city yesterday.

George Lyons of Waverly spent Wednesday here transacting business.

Southern Methodists Have Toughest Schedule; Army to Meet Pitt and Notre Dame

New York.—(P)—The ranks of eighteen unbeaten and untied major college football eleven are certain to lose at least two members this week-end. Further depletion can be expected later when more than half of them get together for crucial games.

The list, by section, East—Temple, Army, Dartmouth, New York University, Princeton, Princeton, Princeton and Syracuse; west—Minnesota, Ohio State, Notre Dame, Marquette, and Iowa; south—North Carolina; south-west—Southern Methodist, Baylor, and Texas Christian; far west—California and University of California at Los Angeles.

Saturday's pairings find Notre Dame matched against Ohio State in the standard game of the nation, and California against U.C.L.A. Only two of them, at the most, retain their place in the race for national gridiron honors.

Among the survivors of the hurly-burly season, North Carolina appears to have the best chance of going through unscathed. The Tarheels meet North Carolina State's wolfpack Saturday in what seems to be the climax game.

Southern Methodist has the toughest assignment. The Mustangs are down for successive engagements with Texas, U.C.L.A., Arkansas, Baylor, and Texas Christian. They wind up their twelve-game season against Texas A. and M. December 7.

Army chances depend on the Cadets' ability to get by Pittsburgh and Notre Dame on successive Saturdays and then, of course, Navy. The Soldiers travel to Pittsburgh November 8 and meet the Ramblers here November 16. Temple meets Michigan State Saturday and two weeks hence the Owls take on Marquette.

Dartmouth and Princeton collide November 23 at Palmer stadium but before they come to grips the Indians and Tigers have some important business. Dartmouth engages Yale Saturday in another attempt to break the "Ivy League." Princeton plays Navy this week, Harvard November 9, and closes November 30 against Yale.

Syracuse still has Colgate and Columbia to contend with. New York University's chief obstacle seems to be Fordham, and North Carolina State may prove to be Catholic University's stumbling block.

In the mid-west Minnesota and Iowa meet November 9, a game which shapes up as the big test for both. The Gophers play Purdue Saturday while Iowa clashes with Indiana.

Lowell Spurgeon.—Carbondale appears to have another strong team, along with Anna Jonesboro and West Frankfort. And it isn't long until Turkey Day.

Bluffs Cagers Begin Work; 25 Boys Out

Will Open with Versailles at Bluffs, November 26; Vets on Hand

Bluffs.—(P)—Coach Carl Morris, issued a call for basketball players this week and twenty-five boys responded. The prospects for this season are much better than last year but there is room for a little more size, especially for a center. Eight letter men reported, which makes a good group to build around.

The letter men are: Bishop, Bailes, Schroeder, Albin, Thompson, Seaman, Smith, and Morholt. Other promising material from last year's squad includes Nortrup, Myers, and Moore; while the freshman class gives us more likely material in Goodin, Rolf, Marsh, and Dunham. There is the usual run of inexperienced players who complete the squad.

At least two weeks will be spent on fundamentals and drills which will give them practice in the things they will use in the game, leaving two weeks for scrimmages in which to prepare for the first game, which is with Versailles at Bluffs, November 26.

The schedule is a most representative one, including games with all the good teams in this section.

Nov. 25—Versailles here. Dec. 3—Milton here. Dec. 6—At Jacksonville. Dec. 11—At Murrayville. Dec. 13—Perry here. Dec. 17—At Franklin. Dec. 20—At Alsea. Jan. 10—At Milton. Jan. 15—Winchester tourney.

Jan. 21—Murrayville here. Jan. 24—Franklin here. Jan. 28—At Griggsville. Jan. 31—Winchester here. Feb. 6—At Perry. Feb. 7—Chapin here. Feb. 11—Griggsville here. Feb. 14—At Alsea. Feb. 21—At Winchester.

The Jacksonville H.S. game at Bluffs is to be arranged at later date. The team will also be entered in the sub-district or district tournament.

Crimsons Get Ready By Tackling Tigers

Throw Passes And Run Hard
To Nose Out Seconds
By 7-6 Margin

Getting ready for a Hawking expedition this Friday Jacksonville High's Crimsons went on a Tiger hunt yesterday afternoon at the Illinois School for the Deaf field in a short scrimmage practice, and came away with the pelt by the margin of George Hamilton's placekick for point after touchdown. The Crimsons won the highly informal game 7-6 from the 1. S. D. seconds.

Carrollton high will come here Friday afternoon for one of the big games on the J. H. S. schedule, a game that both the players and Coach Frank Walker want to win rather badly. They primed themselves for the combat by throwing passes all over the field against the Tiger reserves, mixing up the aerials with plenty of hard running.

Adding to the confidence they obtained when they turned back White Hall last Saturday is the consistent performance of Don "Rabbit" Ranson. Ranson is becoming what the Crimsons squad has long needed, a shifty runner, a capable pass tosser, and a kicker if he is needed. He has the experience to head up the backfield and calmness under fire.

Ranson probably will team up with Charles Davis, whose pass catching was one of the features of the last game, and whose hard tackling has been one of the outstanding defensive points. Dick Benson, and Ray Scott, Scott also has brought something the Crimsons have needed, and that is a hard running back who knows when to duck his head and bore in.

The Crimsons will be at top strength for their game with the Hawks. They hope to retrieve some of the prestige they lost by dropping two games in a row to the Greene County seat club. The game is the only one on the books for the city Friday and promises to attract a large crowd.

Wife Calls On Telephone
Saying "Honey, They've Got Me"

Detroit, Oct. 30.—(P)—Dr. J. H. McGraw, Windsor, Ont., chiropractor, asked police tonight to aid in a search for his wife of a month, Mrs. Dorothy Hess McGraw, whom he said he feared had been kidnaped.

McGraw told police he received a telephone call from his wife at his Windsor, Ont., office about 5 p. m. and that she told him "Honey, they've got me," before the connection was closed.

McGraw said he hurried to his Detroit apartment, and found Mrs. McGraw absent. A tour of the neighborhood revealed she had visited a grocery about 1:30 p. m. He said two street cleaners told him they saw a woman seized and placed in a green coupe by two men near the grocery, but he did not obtain their names. He said the workers told him the car (Cadillac) bore Florida license plates.

Police asked department of justice investigators to aid in the case.

Mrs. McGraw, who is 33 years old, wore five diamonds valued at $3,500, McGraw said.

Greene County Club Plans Safety Drive

Other News Of Interest From Carrollton And Vicinity

Carrollton, Oct. 30.—Determined to accomplish some thing in a drive to put down the excessive number of automobile accidents which occur in rural communities, the Skilled Drivers Club of Greene County announces that it will operate a free safety equipment service here on the west side of the Public Square, adjacent to the Greene County Farm Bureau office, on November 4 and 5, from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. each day.

The equipment service will be comprised of a brake tester, wheel alignment indicator and head light tester. Results of these services as a rule show that a large number of accidents could be avoided. About 60 percent of the cars examined in these tests would be rejected, as lacking in one or more of the three vital points. The sole aim of the Skilled Drivers Club organized by the Greene County Farm Bureau is to teach drivers that the large majority of accidents which occur could be avoided if the proper care and equipment were used.

The results of the new membership drive for October of the Greene County Farm Bureau up to Tuesday was 37 new members. Another contest drive for November will start Friday, Nov. 1.

52 MEMBERS OF LEAGUE READY FOR SANCTIONS

tioned as dates on which the economic siege will actually begin, with opinion in League lobbies generally favoring the latter date.

Other questions facing the plenary committee include:

What to do about sanctions smugling likely to arise, similar to liquor smuggling in America during prohibition.

What to do about states which have not repudiated sanctions.

The advisability of adding such items as coal, cotton, copper, steel and oil to the list of "key products" banned to Italy.

Perfection of League machinery to watch the enforcement of sanctions.

Another question, officially taboo but recurring nevertheless in informal discussions, is how long an economic siege of Italy can remain purely on an economic and non-military basis.

Nations joining the "buy nothing" campaign today, a total of eight, were the Irish Free State, Argentina, Canada, China, Cuba, Siam, Portugal and Venezuela.

Special Tool Cuts Roots From Sewers

Mass of Tree Roots Taken
From Pipe with Machine
Owned by City

The local sewer department force is busy this week cleaning roots out of the city sewers. Yesterday morning a mass of roots closely matted together, was removed from a sewer on East College avenue near Spaulding place. The roots were preventing the passage of most of the sewage, which had only a slow flow thru the pipe.

The work of removing the roots is difficult, requiring the use of a special cutting tool. The machine is inserted into the sewer and operated by means of long connecting rods. A special knife cuts away the roots and loosens them so that they can be washed from the pipe by flushing.

Men in charge of the sewer work report many sewers in the city are thus filled with roots. If the obstructions are not removed, they will in time completely stop the sewers. Many pipes are now so full that the flow of sewage is greatly retarded. The roots enter the pipes thru small openings, and then grow into compact masses within the sewers.

Lamming's Body Will Be Cremated

Ashes of Killer Will Be Taken to Springfield and Interred There

The remains of Raymond Lamming, slayer of three Chicagoans Monday before he turned a pistol on himself, will be taken to Springfield Friday for burial. Lamming was a former Jacksonville man, his early youth being spent here.

William L. Hawthorne, who was wounded Monday during Lamming's wild shooting escapade, died Tuesday morning in Chicago, the third victim of Lamming's blaging pistol. Former Judge William Petzer was killed instantly.

Lamming's mad rampage was attributed to hatred engendered by a jail sentence.

Congressman Lucas in Road Dedication Talk Makes Plea for Safety

Pearl, Ill.—Congressman Scott W. Lucas delivered the principal address in this city Wednesday in the dedication of the opening of Route 100. Mr. Lucas paid a high tribute to the Highway Department of Illinois for its efficiency, industry, and economy in building and maintaining hard roads throughout the state.

"It may interest you to know," the congressman said, "that the concrete highways and the markings thereof in our state are superior to those of any other state in the Union. And it may further be of interest to you to understand that the roads of America are the finest in the world and are the models of all other nations. They are built for speed, and they are used for speed, and yet, because of this, plus the failure of states throughout the Union to adopt proper regulatory measures, and because of the failure of individuals who are the owners of motor vehicles to drive with safety and caution, there has grown up in this country a menacing evil, an evil which takes its toll in death at the rate of 100 per day.

"I doubt that there is a man or woman in this audience who has not had some friend or relative who was the victim of some traffic accident as a result of careless and reckless driving. I seriously doubt that laws with severe penalties attached to the proper remedy, and I am firmly of the belief that the only way by which the lives of innocent people can be made safe for the future is through suggestion, education and co-operation of every community throughout the nation.

A Horrible Record
The following horrible record is worthy of serious consideration upon the part of every American who believes in the saving of human lives:

Year	Deaths	Population	Per 100,000
1913	4,227	44	308.7
1918	10,723	104	107.9
1923	18,394	165	120.5
1924	19,379	171	109.2
1925	21,877	190	109.0
1926	23,493	201	108.9
1927	25,796	213	119.9
1928	27,096	233	113.3
1929	31,215	257	117.3
1930	32,929	267	123.5
1931	33,875	271	125.8
1932	39,451	286	122.5
1933	41,463	290	132.6
1934 estimated	35,500	281	143.0

"Obviously, the question arises when we read the above chart, 'What are we going to do about it? What can be done to stop the killing of human beings in automobile and traffic accidents?' Thirty-six thousand persons lost their lives last year, which means 3,000 every month. The record is appalling; the number is staggering; it is difficult for Americans to comprehend or conceive the tremendous responsibilities which this problem carries in the future.

Heads for Safety
I conclude by saying to you that the Congress of the United States is giving this perplexing problem consideration and thought as to how the Federal Government may be able to aid the states of the Union in saving the lives of human beings.

"I commend this problem to every man and woman in this community and respectfully urge that in the using of this new hard road which is blessing to the citizens of this section of Illinois they use it and enjoy it, having due regard for the safety and comfort of others."

Red noddy, chewing gum slowly "I'll tell MacFarlane," he said. He looked down at the automobile. "Trouble is, Mac isn't here now. Him and the boss went off some where this afternoon right after lunch and I don't know when they'll be back."

MacFarlane was superintendent of the repair shop of the State Auto Sales agency, and all orders for repairs to demonstrator cars were supposed to be routed through him. Bobby frowned.

"Listen, I got a prospect wants a demonstrator this evening," he said. "Can't I get a special job if Mac doesn't get back in time?"

Red chewed his gum solemnly. He was notorious for a steady and undeviating pessimism.

"I suppose," he said, "I'll probably get in bad for it."

"I'll take the blame," said Bobby. "You say Mac went off with the boss? Where'd they go?"

"Search me. Very mysterious. Mac was getting busy with that job over there," he jerked his thumb at a sedan whose hood was crumpled up like an accordion.

"When Hopkins came out and called him. They talked for a minute and then they went away together."

"Oh, Well. If you can get this brake fixed before evening I'll appreciate it."

Bobby walked back to the sales room, wondering where the shop foreman and the head of the agency could have gone. He remembered Larry Glenn's admonition to keep his eye on everything that seemed in the least degree out of the ordinary. In the hope that he could unearth some sort of clue to the whereabouts of the plant where the armored cars were made, could this afternoon's doings have any connection with that?

WHEN evening came Bobby made a hasty supper in a nearby restaurant, and then returned to the agency. He went back to the shop and found his demonstrator waiting for him. The red-headed mechanic was gone, but he had left a tag on the steering wheel bearing the words, "The brake drum is worn down. I fixed it OK for now, but she needs a new one. Tell Mac."

Bobby threw the tag away and

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JEAN DUNN, secretary to DONALD MONTAGUE, lawyer, delays her answer when WALLY WALKER, automobile salesman, asks her to marry him.

At the Golden Feather night club she meets SANDY HARKINS, whose boss is a connection to Wally Walker. She is attracted to him and Jean to him, and Wally to her. He is a man of letters. He is a man of letters.

LARRY GLENN, federal agent, is trying to locate WINGY LEWIS, bank robber. His boss, Mr. Glavin, traces them to Montague, then to Bobby. Bobby goes to Jean's apartment but he is not there. Jean helps Sandy convince her he has nothing to do with a recent holdup. She goes to her home town for a vacation. Sandy comes to see her and asks her to marry him. Jean agrees. Later she wonders how she is to tell Bobby.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXV

BOBBY WALLACE drove the shiny demonstrator roadster in to the shop, turned off the switch and got out.

"Those brakes need adjusting," he called out to a long, raw-boned mechanic who came strolling over to him.

Red nodded, chewing gum slowly. "I'll tell MacFarlane," he said. He looked down at the automobile. "Trouble is, Mac isn't here now. Him and the boss went off some where this afternoon right after lunch and I don't know when they'll be back."

MacFarlane was superintendent of the repair shop of the State Auto Sales agency, and all orders for repairs to demonstrator cars were supposed to be routed through him. Bobby frowned.

"Listen, I got a prospect wants a demonstrator this evening," he said. "Can't I get a special job if Mac doesn't get back in time?"

Red chewed his gum solemnly. He was notorious for a steady and undeviating pessimism.

"I suppose," he said, "I'll probably get in bad for it."

"I'll take the blame," said Bobby. "You say Mac went off with the boss? Where'd they go?"

"Search me. Very mysterious. Mac was getting busy with that job over there," he jerked his thumb at a sedan whose hood was crumpled up like an accordion.

"When Hopkins came out and called him. They talked for a minute and then they went away together."

"Oh, Well. If you can get this brake fixed before evening I'll appreciate it."

Bobby walked back to the sales room, wondering where the shop foreman and the head of the agency could have gone. He remembered Larry Glenn's admonition to keep his eye on everything that seemed in the least degree out of the ordinary. In the hope that he could unearth some sort of clue to the whereabouts of the plant where the armored cars were made, could this afternoon's doings have any connection with that?

WHEN evening came Bobby made a hasty supper in a nearby restaurant, and then returned to the agency. He went back to the shop and found his demonstrator waiting for him. The red-headed mechanic was gone, but he had left a tag on the steering wheel bearing the words, "The brake drum is worn down. I fixed it OK for now, but she needs a new one. Tell Mac."

Bobby threw the tag away and was about to get into the car when he saw Mark Hopkins' head blue roadster parked against the opposite wall.

Julius, the colored man who took care of the shop nights, was coming up with a bucket in one hand and a length of hose in the other. He grinned when he saw Bobby.

"Boss sure got her dirty today," he said. "Told me to wash 'em up good right off."

The roadster was dirty, undeniably. It had gleaming wire wheels, and an abundance of bright chromium-steel on hood and bumpers; and these were plastered with a peculiar reddish dust that completely obscured their ordinary brilliancy.

"Now where you suppose they got that kind of mud?" mused the Negro, bending to look at it. "Ain't no roads around this part of the country got red mud in 'em. I seen plenty down south, but ain't none around here. No where."

"Looks like iron ore," said Bobby. Julius connected his hose to a wall fitting and motioned Bobby to stand back lest he be splashed.

"Uh-huh," he said, twisting the connection tight. "She do look like iron ore. I don't know where it come from, but it's on him, 'less it was down back of the Empire Steel plant."

"Was he down there?" asked Bobby. The Negro looked up.

"I don't know where he was," he said. "When he come in, I see him coming to look at the car about the Central street bridge being closed. That's all I know."

All of this seemed to add up to nothing at all. Bobby stood for a moment longer, watching Julius; then he got in the demonstrator and drove out to give his "prospect" a spin.

It was about an hour later that he brought the car back to the shop and parked it for the night.

As he let himself out and started walking down the street to get his street car, he began to ponder anew on the trip that Mark Hopkins and MacFarlane had taken. Was it worth thinking twice about? Certainly it was Hopkins' privilege to take his shop foreman off on a business trip in the middle of the afternoon, if he chose to, without arousing anybody's suspicions. What if he had driven through some peculiar-looking red dust? Did that necessarily mean anything?

And then he remembered Larry Glenn's words. Somewhere around Dover there was a factory where armored, bullet-proof cars were surreptitiously made for gangsters. Larry believed Hopkins himself was selling these cars.

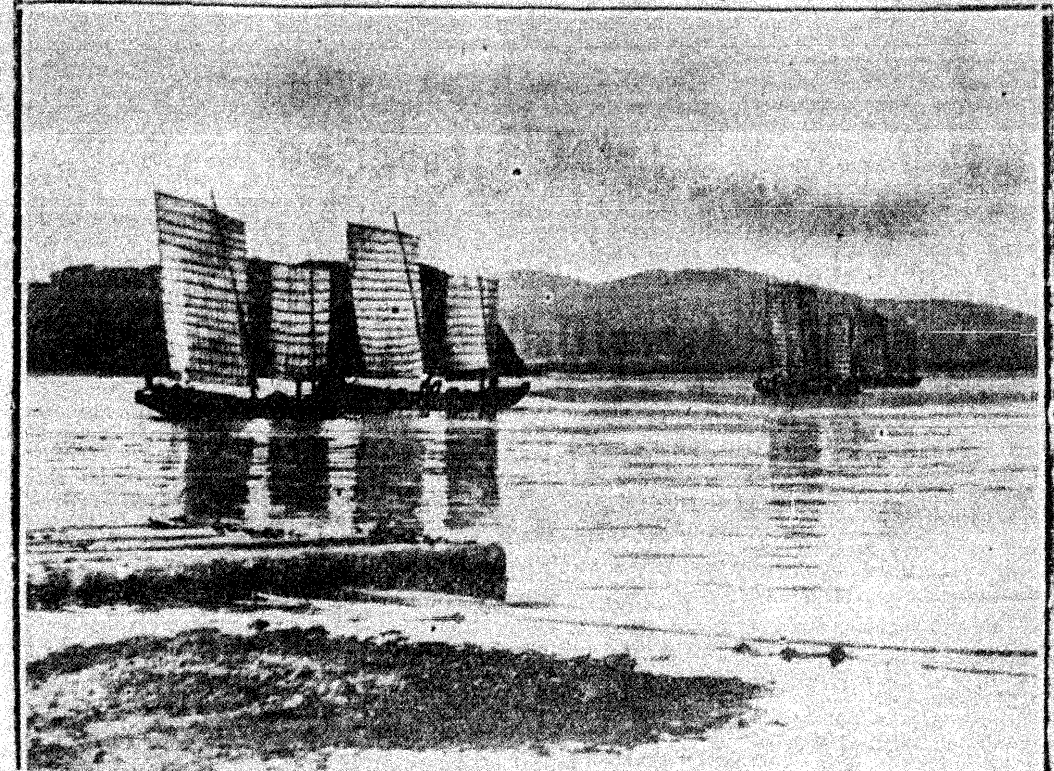

Bobby rode home wondering about these things, and when he got to his room he hunted in his desk for a road map of Dover.

Spreading it out on a table, he bent over it.

The Empire Steel plant was Dover's one consumer of iron ore. It was situated on the southeastern fringe of the city, in an almost inaccessible tangle of railroad tracks, warehouses and small shops. To reach it—let's see—you took Turney road, and Turney was a dead-end street, ending right at the steel mill.

Back of the plant, then? Here it was. . . Bobby's pencil point

Where Soviet and Japanese Outposts Clash

Serving as a natural boundary in places between Japanese dominated Manchukuo and Soviet Russia, the Amur river has become the locale for fatal clashes between the border guards of the two countries. The picturesque square sailed junkie that carry its commerce are pictured above outlined against the mountainous banks of the Amur. Russia has proposed a joint commission to settle the boundary question.

New Measures Create Jobs, Abolish Others

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—In the official language of administration bills before the special legislative session, the dependent aged in Illinois are to get "assistance" instead of pensions.

The $1 a day pension law passed by the regular session in June was entitled the "Old Age Security" act.

New jobs are created and some old ones abolished under the federal-state security program.

The Department of Public Welfare, headed by Director A. L. Bowen of Springfield, will have supervision over the assistance given the aged, the blind, dependent and crippled children and related activities.

To have direct charge, a new position of "superintendent of social security," with a salary of $4,300 yearly, is created by the bills

Republican Meet Draws Large Crowd

Local Attorneys Outline Issues At Wednesday Gathering

The largest attendance in the series of meetings being held in the interest of the Republican candidacy of R. B. Oxley for county commissioner was present at Franklin school last night to hear Orville Foreman and Oscar Zachary, local attorneys, present addresses for this cause. County Chairman Harry Strawn again presided, announcing the final ward meeting at Lafayette school this evening. Carl Robinson, Jacksonville attorney, and Earl B. Searcy, state senator, will speak at the rally Friday night.

Mr. Oxley spoke briefly to the Third ward audience with especial emphasis on high tax rates now prevailing. He pledged his utmost effort to attempt some adjustment in this department, and promised for his term of office, full expenditure of the tax money which the county board has under control.

Oscar Zachary cited the power of the ballot to maintain efficient government, and the results evident where citizens did not have interest in government as being disastrous to a democracy.

The importance and specific duties of the office of county commissioner were clearly outlined by Orville Foreman. He said: "There is no question but that you are voting next Tuesday on an issue of paramount importance to Jacksonville and Morgan county."

The board of commissioners has the oversight of all spending of county moneys, review of cases of tax adjustment and the maintenance of county highways. Furthermore, the board has the power to remove county officials from their duties if they see fit. The commissioner carries a tremendous responsibility and should be capable of carrying them out.

Attorney Foreman pointed out that there were only sixteen counties in the state of Illinois using the commissioner type of government. In the other form, township rule, taxes were, on an average, two dollars per capita higher. He also stated that ten of these sixteen counties existed under Republican administration.

The speaker closed with an expression of confidence in R. B. Oxley to carry out these important duties capably. He pleaded that partisanship be cast aside by both factions in recognition of the qualities of this man who had been drafted by the Republican committee as the logical man to best serve the tax payers of Morgan county.

Greene, Pike To Get Aid For Gas System

Pittsfield, Carrollton, White Hall, Roodhouse To Receive Funds

Washington, Oct. 30.—(P)—The New Deal has put $1,542,335 into Illinois municipal electric power and gas plants.

Sixteen municipalities have received that amount, either in loans or grants, from the public works administration for the construction of plants or the modernization of existing ones.

Seven of the projects received aid from the latest distribution of PWA money while the remainder were included in its first list.

The $1,542,335 loaned or granted the municipalities represents less than 50 per cent of the money invested in these projects. In most instances the municipalities furnished a considerable larger amount of the funds required than they received from PWA.

Seven plants were benefited in the latest distribution of PWA money. They were:

Park, grant of $259,363 on construction of $576,363 electric plant; Pittsfield, grant of $34,363 for gas distributing system to cost $76,363; Carrollton, $32,727 grant for construction of a $65,455 gas system; Roodhouse, $31,090 grant for construction of a $69,090 gas distributing system.

Metropolis, grant of $23,400 for a $52,000 addition to electric light plant; Wood River, grant of $108,000 for construction of a $360,000 electric system.

Earlier, the PWA granted $51,500 to Springfield for extension of its electric system; loaned and granted Overton, $23,000 for an electric plant; supplied Bushnell with $80,000 for use in constructing a gas system; loaned and granted Rushville $72,000 for a gas plant; granted the Chicago sanitary district $230,000 for modernization of its Lockport plant; granted the Peoria sanitary district $25,000 to improve generating facilities; loaned and granted Centralia $477,000 for an electric generating plant and distributing system; furnished $25,000 for improvement of the electric plant at Highland; and made a loan and grant of $41,000 for improvement of the Altamont electric plant.

A number of other Illinois municipalities have applications pending for loans and grants for electric or gas plants but PWA officials say it is unlikely they will be granted unless congress appropriates additional funds.
